SCSK's No-Code Development Service "CELf" Expands Globally

SCSK Corporation (Head Office: Koto-ku, Tokyo; Representative Director, President and Chief Operating Officer: Takaaki Touma; hereinafter SCSK) will begin providing the no-code development service "CELf" globally from October 2022, starting with the European region (UK, Netherlands, Germany).

"CELf" has been provided since 2016 as a no-code development service originally developed by SCSK. Its Excel-like operability makes it highly applicable to the business issues of many companies and organizations, which leads to the global expansion of CELf by leveraging the introduction cases and experience we have cultivated so far.

1. Schedule of CELf's global expansion

Start Date	Region	Distributor
Oct. 2022	EU (United Kingdom, Netherlands, Germany)	SCSK Europe Ltd. (Hereinafter SCSK EU)
Nov. 2022, and after	Southeast Asia, centered on Singapore	SCSK Asia Pacific Pte. Ltd.
	America	SCSK USA Inc.

2. About CELf

"CELf" is a no-code development cloud service that allows you to create a business application that automatically links Excel to a database in as quick as 3 minutes*. As a service that allows non-IT engineers to improve their own work by themselves, it can be used in the following usage scenarios, and more.

- Improve the efficiency of aggregation and processing of Excel files between the head office and the group, and between internal departments, and automate routine operations.
- Accumulation of business know-how that has become dependent on expatriates and local staff.
- Highly effective work efficiency improvement using low-cost robot (RPA) functions.

The CELf cloud service provided by SCSK EU also comply with the GDPR (EU General Data Protection Regulation).

* When automatically converting available Excel templates to CELf apps without customizing them
